MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER TO ENFORCE HEALTH ACT

EPIDEMIC MAY BREAK OUT IN CITY IF DEFINITE ACTION IS NOT TAKEN. MACHINE GUNS ARRIVE FROM OTTAWA. DEMANDS MADE FOR MONIES FOR SCHOOL PURPOSES. LABORERS WAGES REDUCED. TENDERS FOR LUMBER ASSISTANCE GIVEN TO BOY SCOUTS. GAS COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The regular meeting of the city council was held on Tuesday evening with all members in attendance. After the adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting a letter was read re the holding a national convention of the Dominion Good Roads Association. This was filed.

The demands for the school boards were received and referred to the finance committee. The public school board requires $30,000, and the Sacred Heart school board $2200.

The secretary-treasurer reported that three machine guns had arrived from the department at Ottawa, and he was instructed to acknowledge receipt of same, expressing the appreciation of the citizens in having the guns placed here.

The cemetery and parks committee reported that no expenditures would be made this year, apart from the burning of the grass at the cemetery. Report was adopted.

Peter Baxter visited on the council, wanting an exchange of lots, but this was held in abeyance until the opinion of the solicitor could be obtained.

A contract for supplies from the General Electric Supply Co. was referred to the committee with power to act.

An account of $2.40 for meals for two prisoners, and $7.00 for services rendered by Mr. J. Smith while in attendance as a jury prisoner, were passed for payment.

C. D. Smith drew the attention of the council to the premium on the insurance for the fire, market, license and dog tax. Insurance will be carried on ten men, and the premium is $50.00.

The following accounts were passed for payment: General $117.87; electric light $114.65; water works $80.25; wages $155.40.

Mr. McCoolan, medical health officer, addressed the council and emphasized the fact that unless the quarantine regulations of the health act were rigidly enforced there was grave danger.

WETASKIWIN GOLF CLUB HAS BEEN FORMED

At a special meeting of the promoters of the above mentioned club held April 16th, it was decided to form a provisional committee of Messrs. R. W. Manley, C. B. McMurdo, A. Roulston, R. A. Rodgers and L. A. Russell, with R. W. Manley as acting chairman and L. A. Russell acting secretary-treasurer.

The P. Barna pasture has been loaned for a term of years and the committee are now busy putting the course in shape. Golfers who have already played over the course are in high spirits to think that such a sporty course can be obtained so close to town.

It was decided that the subscription for gentlemen would be $10.00 and for ladies $5.00, and anyone wishing to join the club will kindly notify the acting secretary-treasurer at the Imperial Bank, or any member of the committee.

Over fifteen sets of clubs have been purchased by new players, and it is suggested that anyone contemplating playing golf this year place their order for clubs soon, as the committee is informed that with several new clubs opening in Alberta, the demand is so great for clubs and supplies that unless orders are placed now delivery will not be guaranteed this season.

Fullerton-Fawcett Lumber Co. $29.75 per M.

Ellis-Richards: That the public works committee purchase material for the sidewalks from the lowest tenderer. Carried.

Donald Ross addressed the council on the Boy Scouts movement, and suggested that if the council would procure a stretcher which would be greatly needed in the city for emergency cases, and the use of same be given to the Boy Scouts, who were training in first-aid work, it would be greatly appreciated. After a brief discussion, the police, market, license and relief committee was authorized to purchase a stretcher, and it was agreed that the Boy Scouts would be permitted to use same at any time.

Ald. Duman brought up the matter of work at the gas wells, and moved that His Worship appoint a special committee to supervise the work. This was seconded by Ald. Ellis. His Worship appointed Ald. Compton, Duman and Ellis.

Chas. H. Russell left on Saturday night for his home at Exeter, Ont., on account of the serious illness of a brother. He expects to return in a couple of weeks.

On account of wash-outs and the dangerous condition of the track in Saskatchewan, the Winnipeg-Saskatoon C.P.R. train has been several hours late for several days.

At the last meeting of the Wetaskiwin hospital board the tender of Aboussey & Murray for supplies for the next three months was accepted, their tender being the lowest.

Mrs. Sweeney left Sunday for the coast, where she will remain for a month. She has been in indifferent health for some time, and it is hoped the change of altitude and climate will prove beneficial to her.

Joe Keen, of the Royal Cafe, one of the Wetaskiwin's celebrities, who left about late in the afternoon, returned home this week. He said he had a good time, but was glad to get back to Alberta.

Frederic A. Conroy purchased a very fine Hereford bull at the Edmonton Stock Show last week, and the animal reached the city on Friday. "Willow Spring Cobs" was one of the highest priced animals at the show, and is greatly admired by every stock man.

A. E. Lynch went to Red Deer on Friday last on account of the sudden death of his sister-in-law. Her remains were taken to Manitoba for interment. The passing of this lady makes the fourth demise in the family in a short time.

What is being done towards the organization of a municipal hospital for the Municipality of Wetaskiwin? Many districts in the province are active, favorable votes have been taken in some, while other districts are arranging for a plebiscite at an early date. The people of this district must act in the near future, if anything is to be accomplished this year.

WETASKIWIN BOY SCOUTS LOCAL ASSOCIATION

CAMPAIN FOR FUNDS APRIL 25th to 30th

The ladies of the L. O. D. E. have kindly consented to canvass the city on above dates for subscriptions. Our object is to raise at least $500.

This money will be used for the purpose of properly outfitting the various troops and Cubs of the Wetaskiwin district, also for camp equipment and general upkeep.

As this is the first public appeal which the Boy Scouts Association has made, they trust that the public will generously respond.

The Boy Scout Movement

To combat the erroneous idea that some people have, that the Boy Scout movement is a military one, we have with publication the objects of the Boy Scout movement, which can be verified by any parent of a Boy Scout in Wetaskiwin.

The Boy Scout movement is not a religious or military movement. Its objects are rather for peace.

To make real men of the boys. To improve their manners. To teach them to be of service to themselves and the community.

To do one good action every day. To be kind to each other. To be kind to all dumb animals.

To help anyone who needs their support. To "Be Prepared" at any time, and ready to assist or help the nation in case of emergency, such as an epidemic of disease or a disaster by flood, fire or invasion.

The local association is connected with one troop. There are two troops in one Wolf Cub Pack in Wetaskiwin, and one troop in Ponoka. It is also the desire of the association to form other troops in the country district, and when such districts feel inclined to start a troop the association will give them every support it can.

There is not a finer institution in the country than the boys then the Scout movement, and none more deserving the hearty support of every true Canadian.

NEWSPAPER MEN HELD MEET IN WETASKIWIN

On Friday afternoon last the newspaper men of this community met at Wetaskiwin and organized District No. 3 of the Alberta Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association.

Those present were Messrs. P. W. Galbraith, of "The Advocate," Red Deer; C. B. Halpin, of "The Globe," Lacombe; Geo. Gordon, of "The Herald," Ponoka; A. H. Kniss, of "The Representative," Leduc; A. W. McIntyre, of "The Canadian," Camrose; A. H. Liverdahl, of "The Free Press," Wetaskiwin, and V. C. French, of "The Times," Wetaskiwin. Other papers in the district are The Red Deer News and The Rimby Advance, but representatives from these papers were unable to be present.

After a few words of welcome by the convenor, a permanent organization was effected, and V. C. French, president and A. H. Liverdahl secretary.

During the proceedings, round-table talks were held by Mr. W. McIntyre on Subscriptions; by Geo. Gordon on Job Costs, and by P. W. Galbraith on Advertising and Rates to be charged, when many very interesting and helpful suggestions were brought out, which should prove useful to members of the craft. The visitors were entertained at dinner at the Palmolive.

PLEBISCITE ON LIQUOR ACT TO BE TAKEN IF NECESSARY

ALBERTA LEGISLATURE PROPOSED TUESDAY. ASSENT GIVEN TO SEVENTY-EIGHT BILLS. NEXT ASSEMBLY WILL HAVE THREE MORE MEMBERS. PIPE LINES BILL WITHDRAWN, AND SINGLE TAX DISCARDED. BOARD OF CONCILIATION TO ADJUST TEACHERS' TROUBLES.

(From Legislature Press Gallery)

Edmonton, April 19.—After a steady and strenuous session of nine weeks, to-day the legislature finished work tonight shortly before six o'clock, when the Lieutenant Governor formally prorogued the house and gave final assent to a list of 78 bills, there being 78 bills passed for the session, of which a number were withdrawn or killed in committee or on second reading.

One of the last acts was to provide for the election of 61 instead of 58 members to the next legislative assembly, there being five members each provided for in Calgary and Edmonton, instead of three each, and two members instead of one in Medicine Hat. With the elimination of the two seats now held by overseas members, the gain will total three members.

The government also obtained authority to take a plebiscite on the liquor act, as well as others, in the event of the being deemed necessary to get an expression of opinion on this question after the new "licensing" amendments of this session have been passed out. Premier Stewart said that if agitation kept up after the government had done its best to enforce the more rigid regulations now adopted, he would undoubtedly have to take some steps taken to meet the demand, although in a statement read to the house he asserted that no plebiscite or any change in the act to conform to the application, would be granted on the application of the 75,000 signers of the "moderation" petitions. However, he said the opinion of the people on a large number of persons could not be ignored. He refused to be led aside from a safe and just middle course by the "taunts of the liquor advocates and prohibitionists." The liquor act amendments provide for heavier penalties for drugists and practically all persons violating the act, the sums being doubled in most cases. Hon. Mr. Boyle was forced to amend a proposal that the right of ordinary appeal to drugists and clerks be denied where they were liable to imprisonment for a second offence. Doctors will be limited to 100 prescriptions a month, and veterinary surgeons will get only one gallon of liquor a month instead of half a gallon daily.

Pipelines Bill Withdrawn

The most bitter fight of the session was over the application of the Imperial Oil Company, through a subsidiary company, to get a franchise for constructing oil pipe lines in the province, this bill being bitterly opposed by a group of about twenty members, comprising all sides of the house, the majority of this faction wanting the pipe lines of the company to become "common carriers" of oil if it came to be used.

The government was prepared to give a partial concession to this demand by suggesting that for a "surplus" capacity after transmitting their own oil they accept other products at a rate to be fixed by the utilities commission. Premier Stewart was opposed to giving a "blanket franchise" for pipe line construction, but agreed that the company have the right to build not more than 150 miles this year and that their powers of incorporation be limited to conform to the general pipe line act, rather than to be brought down some time in the future by the government.

This restriction was not at all satisfactory to W. A. Rae, Pease River, the member in charge, withdrew the bill Monday night, after it had been the centre of the most unrelenting battle for some weeks.

Hon. Geo. F. Smith, minister of education, received an undeniable triumph in his struggle with the teachers' association, when he was given government support Thursday night in the adoption of the schools ordinance providing for a board of conciliation to intervene on application of either side.

CAMROSE HOSPITAL SCHEME COMMENCED

The Camrose municipal hospital scheme has been launched and plans completed for the taking of the vote early in June. Fifteen delegates were present at a meeting resulting in the numerous areas in the proposed scheme.

The hospital will follow much the same plan as the one at Drumheller, will have 42 beds and will be situated in the neighborhood of $60,000, while the furnishings will bring this total to an estimated figure of $95,000. The district embraces roughly townships 41 to 45 inclusive and ranges 29 to 22 and certain parts of range 23. Taxation was set at 3 cents per acre in the case of farm lands, and 1 cent in the assessment in respect to town and villages.

The hospital will be located at Camrose on the site of the present town hall. Strong efforts to secure the sub-hospital at Bashaw were made by the local delegates, owing to the isolation of that town from the central point. However, due to the fact that this would raise taxation over the 30 rate, the board opposed the granting of same, but did grant the town a district nurse along with tax advantages and quarters in the town, these latter to be rented for the time being.

If Bashaw can secure six townships the sub-hospital will be granted, and those interested in the movement are confident that within the year they will have the sub-hospital, as already four of the six townships have been secured, and determined efforts will be put forth to secure the other two as soon as the ratepayers endorse the present plan.

CIRCULATING LIBRARY AT MINNEHICK

Mr. J. L. Tipping of Wolf River Ranch, who has sold out his interests there and is leaving the district, has kindly donated as a nucleus to a circulating library at Minnehick, a number of books from his private library. This district has only a weekly mail service, and the need of such a library is very keenly felt. Mrs. W. Williams post mistress at Minnehick, has kindly consented to act as librarian, and donations of books to augment the present library will be gratefully received. Any of our readers having books to spare, if they will kindly leave them at The Times office or with H. J. Montgomery, M.P., we will see that they are forwarded promptly to Minnehick.

OBITUARY

ROBT. FRED WUDEL

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Wudel, in the loss of their infant son, Robert Fred, who passed away on Saturday, after a few days illness with pneumonia, at the age of one month and fifteen days. The remains were laid tenderly away in the country district, Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. A. H. Schermerman.

Ernest Switzer raised a barn one day last week.

Geo. Hush has purchased the stock of N. W. Gould, and has rented his farm for a term of years.

Miss A. Vaughn has accepted a situation at the post office here, Miss Carmel retiring owing to ill health.

A shipment of 226 head of stock was made from this station last week by C. Young, for P. Barnes & Co.

J. S. Robertson, who has conducted the Queens Hotel here for several months, disposed of the business on Monday to Mr. Widen, who recently arrived from South Dakota.

Mr. Cowan and family have moved into town from Bitters Lake, and are living with their son James until their new home is built.

At a meeting of ratepayers, a committee consisting of Messrs. McCallum, Walker and Herie, was appointed to confer with Overseer Chandler in the matter of locating tanks for fire protection, also selecting a site for the fire hall.

Milliet correspondence: Nearly all the land in the first two townships is now taken up. Fred Hildes has opened up a general store. The surveyor is expected here shortly to lay out the town site. R. E. H. the summer section foreman, has returned for the summer work.

Diamond correspondence: Ducks and geese have returned in earnest.
Mr. Hildes mailed seedling wheat on April 12th. Last Sunday between David West Lake and Wetaskiwin, the bottom of the road. Diamond failed to get a license and he said to be dry yet, but if you are very bad you can get a little on the sly, but hardly $500.00 worth.

barley 37c; hogs on foot $6.00 to $6.25;
flour (bakery) $2.50.

A lengthy list of those who subscribed for stock in the Farmers' Cooperative Stores to be erected in Wetaskiwin is published.

YE COUNTRY EDITOR

Most men can be an editor. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days a week, four weeks a month and twelve months in a year, and edit such stuff as this: "Mrs. Jones of Cactus Creek let a can opener slip from her hand and cut herself in the hands."

Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week, looking for a leak, and fell, landing on his back porch.

White Harold Green was exhorting the public square, Mr. Frang, while harnessing a bronco last Saturday was kicked just south of his corral.

INDIAN REGU-LATIONS REGARDING
STRAY ANIMALS

The following is a synopsis of the regulations respecting stray animals, which have been adopted by the four bands of Indians on the Hobbema Reservation, and which have been confirmed by His Excellency, the Government General in Council.

The poundkeeper shall have suitable premises for the keep and shelter of all animals taken up, and shall keep proper records of same. Every day he reports to the care for such animal he is liable to a penalty of from $1.00 to $3.00 for such negligence.

Notices describing the animal shall be placed in at least six places on or adjacent to the reserve, and if the animal is not claimed within twenty days after the posting of notice, the animal shall be sold after eight days' notice of such proposed sale.

The expenses connected with the keeping of an animal shall be defrayed from the receipts of the sale, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the owner, or if not claimed, shall be paid to the Indian Agent, who will transmit same to the Department of Indian Affairs, to be placed to the credit of the ranch account of the land.

The charges to be collected by the poundkeeper: (a) to the poundkeeper of such animal, $1.00; (b) for maintenance
during summer months, five a day; for winter months $1.00 per head per day; (c) cost of advertising; (d) for posting notices of impounding, ten cents per mile; (e) trespass and grazing, not to exceed $5.00 per animal; (f) for selling impounded animals, 25 per cent commission upon the amount realized at time of sale.

In case the owner of the animal impounded takes exception to the charges, he shall appeal to a Justice of the Peace, whose determination as to the costs shall be final.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW
OF THE MARKETS

CATTLE—There is a market for choicest export cattle at Edmonton, and which has kept all tops up, but increase in fatness has been during the past few days. Choice export steers $7.50 to $8.50; good, $7.00 to $7.25; medium, $6.50 to $6.75; common $5.00 to $6.25; good, $5.50 to $5.75; medium $4.00 to $4.50; common, and canners, $4.00 down. Calves steady, with top lighter $5.00 to $5.50; heavy, $6.00 to $6.50. Feeder steers $5.00 to $5.75; stockers $4.00 to $5.25.

HOGS—Hogs at Edmonton this week-end show a drop of half a dollar from last week, with quotations of $12.50.

SHEEP—There is an easy market at Edmonton on sheep, with the exception of breeding ewes, which are in demand. On butcher stock prices are: lambs $9.00 to $10.00; wethers $7.50 to $8.50; ewes $6.00 to $7.50.

GRAIN—Serious declines during the week, with wheat suffering most. May and July crop prices much lower, and Canadian cash prices well over U.S. quotations. Unexpected surplus, light money and good crop prospects in the States are given as some of the causes.

Work on the land has been resumed in many parts of the province this week, and the busy season is opening up.

PRODUCE—Edmonton market is lower again on eggs, with quotations this week $7.25. Butterfat prices have changed from last week's decline, with station prices now at 41c, 35c and 30c.
Creamery butter now selling 55c to 56c on cartons. Dairy butter still slow, with straight receipts 25c. Poultry market firm, with light receipts and little in storage; fowl 23c to 25c; turkeys 35c up.

RECORD PRICES
- AT AUCTION SALE
OF PRIZE BEEF

Keen bidding marked the sale of children's exhibits in the cat feeding competition at the Edmonton Live stock show, the sale being conducted by J. W. Durno, Calgary, and S. W.
Paisley, Lacombe. Seventeen of the entries were auctioned off, top prize being obtained for the prize steer offered by Norman Williams, Vermilion.
The record price of 30 cents a pound, live weight, was paid by the James Ramsay Company. D. B. Mun-ton, president of the Edmonton Livestock exchanges, gave the Ramsay firm a spirited chase for the prize Shorthorn.

Another record Canadian price for 1921 was set when Mr. Mullen purchased a Shorthorn offered for sale by Arthur M. Wilson, Killam, for 28 cents a pound. Lee Williams of Wood-Vetter and McCarthy, bought Duke Williams' Shorthorn steer, the price being 21 cents a pound. Top price, 3/4 cents a pound for a car lot, was registered by the H. P. Kennedy Co.
for the car lot offered by L. J. Asten.

The charges to be collected by the poundkeeper: (a) to the poundkeeper of
such animal, $1.00; (b) for maintenance
during summer months, five a

High Average Mileage

Sometimes you find a tire that gives extraordinary mileage—one in a dozen perhaps. Whereas the average of mileage given by a dozen or a hundred—Ames Holden "Auto-Shoes" will be as high as that given by the exceptional ordinary tire.

It's the high average that counts—that cuts the cost of miles—that makes it worth while

FORSAKEN FARMS

There are not tilters willing to stay upon the farm; to town they all are drifting; the hayloft has no straw left to plow; their standbys all are falling; there are no hired men now. The yeoman wears his money, and cries, "Wholl work for me?" And people think it funny his dire distress to see. The farmer seeks the village imploring husky men to help him with his tillage, but no big crops again. He offers princely wages, he'd throw a chrome in, and all the village sages just sit around and grin. The farmer's rolling acres won't roll up ample crops; his money has no takers, no helper with him stops. There is no stalwart bumptkin to help him bale his wheat, he cannot throw the pumpkin nor shuck the sugar beet. The population's shifting to towns, we plainly see, and whether we drift, my friends, when such things be, if it were only younger I'd farm a strip of loam, and help to thwart the hunger that threatens every home. The farm stands of the nation must grow strong beans and oats, or we shall have to wait and lose our valued goats—Walt Mason.

TWO DISTRICTS HAVE ASKED FOR NEW HOSPITALS

Two new municipal hospital districts have been added to the list. Red Deer district, which has just been established, will comprise the city of Red Deer, the villages of Sylvan Lake, Delburne, Penhold and Rocky Mountain House, all of municipal districts 338, 339, 342, 343, 401 and 402, and the town of municipal districts 340, 371, 398, 399 and 406. It will be the second largest hospital district in the province, and steps will be taken shortly to prepare a scheme for submission to the ratepayers. A district has also been established at Warner, comprising the village and the country tributary to it. The Warner district scheme has now been drawn up and will be voted on in the first week of June. A free site for the hospital has been offered by the town, including the normal school, and it is proposed to erect thereon a fully modern building with accommodation for forty-two patients.

RECIPE FOR COOKING HUSBANDS

One of the lectures before the Deltmore Cooking School recently gave this recipe for cooking husbands: "A good many husbands are spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were bladders, and blow them up; others keep them constantly in hot water; others let them freeze by their carelessness and indifference. Some keep them in a stew by their irritating ways and words; others roast them, and some keep them in a pickle all their lives. "It cannot be supposed that any husband can be tender and good when managed in these ways, but they are really delicious when properly treated. "In selecting a husband, you should not be guided by the alluring appearance as in buying a mackerel; nor by the golden tint, as if you wanted a salmon. "Be sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him, as the best is always brought to your door. It is far better to have none unless you will patiently learn how to cook him. "A preserving kettle of the finest porcelain is best, but if you have nothing better than an earthen piggin it will do with care. "See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended, with the required number of buttons tightly sewed on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silken cord called 'comfort,' as the one called 'duty' is apt to be weak. "Make a clean steady fire out of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Set him as near as seems to agree with him. If he sputters and fizzes, do not be anxious. Some husbands do this until quite done. "Add a little sugar in the form of what the confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves him, but it must be used with judgment. Do not stick any sharp instruments into him to sell him as becoming tender. Stir him gently now and then. You cannot fail to know when he is done. If thus treated you will find him very reliable, agreeing nicely with you and the children, and he will keep as long as you want, unless you become careless and set him in too cool a place."

THE LOST PATROL

Into the land of wild desolation,
Into the land of the white, frozen north;
Following the trail that duty has shown them,
The patrol of the Mounties went gallantly forth.
Little they dreamed of the horrors before them;
The wolf of the north with his white fangs bared
Crept close on their trail, and the bilzards swept o'er them,
But the Mounties are men trained to do and to dare.
Over the pathless white of the barrens, Never a landmark to serve them as guide,
They sang as the snow clouds came whirling about them, And laughed in the face of the foe
they defied.
Dull were the days, no sunlight to greet them;
The frost stung their lungs and they struggled for breath;
While the wolf of the north crept steadily near them,
And over them hovered the shadow of death.
Grimly they fought on, starving and freezing;
The drifts closed about them, they stumbled and fell.
Then the wolf spirit sank in the snow on its haunches
And raised to the heavens its shuddering yell.
There in the moonlight the search party found them,
Silent and wrapped in their blanket of snow.
No more would they answer the voice of a comrade,
Or feel the cold touch of their merciless foe.
And now at McPherson the heroes are sleeping,
No more to wake till the last trumpet shall roll Down through the ages, then from the northland Shall rise in their glory the lost patrol.

PILES HEMORRHOIDS ARE CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION.

There are few complaints more common than hemorrhoids, commonly called piles, and scarcely any which cause more trouble and misery. Piles are divided into three classes, i.e., itching, protruding and bleeding, and consist in a fullness of blood and languid circulation in the portion of the lower bowel or rectum. The chief causes of piles are constipation, straining at stool, and the use of drastic purgatives. This latter we would very strongly advise against as these strong purgatives, especially those containing calomel and other mineral drugs are too strong for the average person's bowels. A mild laxative will do more to correct this trouble than anything else, and this you will find in Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills, a pill that is purely vegetable, small and easy to take, and does not grip, weaken or sicken. Milburn's Lax-Liver Pills are 25c a box at all dealers or, mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Ottawa, April 12.—There are more than 30,000 returned soldiers and sailors out of work in Canada, known to the G.W.V.A., according to figures given yesterday by G. G. McNeil, who outlined the work accomplished by the association since its birth four years ago in Winnipeg. There are now a quarter of a million members.

A. S. Cochran and a staff of well drilled arrived in town the other day, and drilling operations at the hospital will commence forthwith. Mr. Cochran is optimistic of the outcome, and states at any rate they will go down over three thousand feet in the attempt to get a flow of gas.—Tonoka Herald.

Winnipeg, April 14.—Rev. Father Thunderrand, O.M.I., who on March 23 last celebrated the 102nd anniversary of his birth, died last evening in St. Boniface, Man. He was the oldest Catholic priest in the world, being born on March 23, 1819, in the village of La Prairie, Quebec, of pure French parentage.

The slender action brought by the Palmer Chiropractic School of Davenport, Iowa, against the city of Edmonton, John Park, M.D., and the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta, has been dismissed by Mr. Justice Hyndman in a judgment handed down on Friday afternoon, all parties to the action to pay their own costs. The total claim of the plaintiffs against the defendants was $20,000, but it was announced by Dr. Palmer, head of the school, before the action started, that all that was sought was a complete vindication of the school's name.

BROTHERHOOD OF AMERICAN YEOMEN IN CONCLAVE

The provincial convocation of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen was held in Calgary Wednesday, April 13, and was attended by delegates from Charehobin in the south to Athabasca in the north. The largest delegation came from the city of Edmonton, where the hostesses, had a membership of 160.

The meeting opened at 10 a.m., with Theo. Fredericson of Charehobin in the chair, and R. H. Bayly of Edmonton acting secretary.

Great interest was taken in the business of the convention and many important resolutions regarding the development of the organization in Canada were passed, and forwarded to the Grand Conclave to be held in the city of Denver, June 14. The delegate elected was R. F. Bayly of Edmonton, with A. P. Graf of Bon Accord Alternates.

The following officers were elected for the next four years:

Provincial Foreman—F. E. Allison, Clive.

Provincial Master of Ceremonies—Mrs. E. F. Higgins, Athabasca.

Provincial Secretary—Mrs. B. Shantz, Wetaskiwin.

Provincial Master of Accounts—R. K. Peck, Charehobin.

Provincial Chaplain—G. W. Ware, Edmonton.

Little is known generally in Alberta of the Yeomen of Alberta. In the United States it is one of the largest and most successful fraternal organizations in the country, being open to both men and women. For this reason it appeals to a far larger number than many other fraternal orders. It carries a splendid line of life, sickness and accident insurance, which has proved a great attraction.

Its present membership, close to 200,000, is scattered pretty well all over the continent.

The convention will meet again, four years hence, in Edmonton.

THE PRINTER AND HIS PAPER

An aggressive country weekly can make a community, or lack of it break a community. It can lift a struggling neighborhood up to prosperity. It is the tie that binds the home, church and school together. This is the opinion of A. W. Hopkins of the Department of Agricultural Journalism of Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

"Once established, the country weekly can be of great assistance in making a live community," he says. "Backing all the valuable and worthwhile social or business enterprises is a regular part of its duties. Many a success has been built because of the help given by the local newspaper."

"Familiarity with its readers is the foundation for the success of the country weekly," says Mr. Hopkins. "Printing a record of all births, marriages, deaths, and the various fortunes of its readers will help make a place for itself in the homes of its readers."

When people want to interest distant friends in their home town they send away copies of the local paper. When anyone wants to know what kind of a place a distant town is, he sends for a copy of the local newspaper.

When the merchants are full of courage and adventure freely, an impression is created among the many people living outside of town who see the paper that this is a wide-awake little business town. If at times the merchants let up a little on their advertising, the town does not look so good to outsiders.

In supporting the home paper, therefore, you not only get the local and business news, but you help on all civic causes, you are enabled to participate to the fullest extent of its life, and you help the town exert influence and create a favorable impression outside.—Successful Farming.

ONTARIO VOTES BONE DRY BY BIG MAJORITY

Toronto, April 13.—Ontario today voted for "bone dry prohibition" on the ballot, to stop importation by a majority of probably 125,000 to 200,000, on an estimated vote of 500,000 to 700,000 for the entire province. Owing to the fact that the results are being counted unofficially, and subject to many duplications, only estimates are available. The indubitable fact is, however, that the electors of the province have voted by a fair majority to join the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Nova Scotia in the prohibition of importation as well as the sale of intoxicating liquors within the provincial borders.

Early returns by no means showed a definite trend. For a time the "wets" had it, but it was because the first results were from the cities.

Ottawa, Windsor, Kitchener, Kingston, Brockville, Port William, St. Catharines, Belleville, Guelph and Port Arches, voted "no." London, Brantford, Stratford, Peterboro, Niagara Falls, Woodstock, Chatham, St. Thomas and Owen Sound "yes."

Huron, according to early returns, voted "no," but the last report was that there had been a serious mix up in the counting of the returns and the result there may be regarded as doubtful, but more likely "wet" than "dry."

In Toronto the returns were incomplete when the various committees gave up the count, but it looked like a "wet" majority of from 3000 to 5000.

The mining districts of Northern Ontario, with the farming communities of the rest of the province, returned "no" majorities in most cases, according to the prohibition leaders, for the much smaller general vote today.

The result of the voting today will be the application of the Dominion law prohibiting importation from any other province, state or country. Also as the result of today's majority the province will put into force the Sundry Bill prohibiting "short circuiting" or delivery within the province of liquor manufactured in the province, for there is still no law prohibiting the manufacturing of intoxicating liquors in Ontario.

BE NATURAL

Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge enemies by trying to please everybody! If such an individual ever succeeds, pass him over this way that we may have one look at his mortal remains ere he vanishes away, for surely this earth cannot be his abiding place. No one who does not believe in the law of the jungle, who thinks that he can get away with this world trying to find beams to knock and thump his head against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting and showing out, crowding all who differ from him. That again is another extreme. Other people have their opinions; so have you. Don't fall into the error of supposing they will respect you more for turning your coat every day, to match the color of theirs. Wear your own clothes in spite of wind and weather, storms and sunshine. It costs the irresolute ten times the trouble to wind and shuffle and twist that it does honestly independence to stand.

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMMARE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q.
"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvelous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives'."

"Fruit-a-tives" cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure."

BROWN BETTY

Brown Betty was not a pudding, nor a kitchen maid, nor a pet. Brown Betty was a three-roomed little house, gaily up in the pines, with the sound of the nearby sea in her ears and the fragrance of delicious wondrous smells in her nostrils—a simple little frame house, huddled in rompers, so to speak, with hanging, vicker furniture, but with sunny open windows and a big warm hearted open fireplace. It was just a home of her own that Angelina Darcy's soul had hungered for during endless boarding house years.

When her school door was open Angelina had boarded in towns—when shut, boarded at summer resorts—until the mere thought of boarding bored her to tears. Even a professional boarder would turn. As the tenth summer vacation since she had been teaching approached, Angelina turned—without a housekeeper or the look in her determined eye.

Through a friend she had found Paradise Grove, a seaside town of less than three thousand, where, according to a recent census, twelve hundred unmarried women lived and kept their home fires burning.

Up in the woods where Angelina discovered Brown Betty, with her beckoning "To Let" sign, these Adam-like boys were thickset, the little houses of their own peeping out at each other from behind the trees. In the Sea Shell opposite lived Miss Moulton, died, the born spinster (type all the same), who chose out a living by doing plain sewing. On Brown Betty's right was the Pine Cone, owned by an up-to-date bachelor and who wore sport clothes, played tennis and ran a Forest Tea Garden in her back yard. The Yellow Jacket, glaring with front paint, on Brown Betty's left, was not the least of the boarding houses in preparation, a tenant was evidently imminent.

Her new neighbor arrived the next day, the five passenger Ford that they had just for the Grove shortly after the Yellow Jacket's gate shutting after the 4 o'clock train from the city had whizzed into town. Angelina Darcy, sitting on Brown Betty's porch, seeing, shot a stealthy glance at the machine, then gave a start of astonishment, a stare of incredulity, for who could sit in a car, and a car with a steering wheel, and a man's man!

Brown Betty's mistress was not merely astounded, she was amazed. She had counted on a summer of "letting" her freedom in her own house—no dress as she pleased, and as she pleased. Now she would have to stop and consider her appearance and actions a hundred times, a day, for the Yellow Jacket's side porch and Brown Betty's were so close, the two little bungalows had only to stretch out arms to shake hands. Well, at least she could keep a distant manner. As though in token of this austere determination she gathered up her sewing and went into the house.

Some half an hour later she was in the critical midst of mixing batter in her first experiment in walking properly when the door bell rang. Her vexation at being interrupted was scarcely appeased when, on opening the door, she found the unwelcome new arrival standing before her.

"Pardon me," he said, with careful courtesy, but a strange breathlessness of voice, "but would you allow me to use your telephone?"
"I have no telephone," Angelina Darcy answered curtly.

"I'm sorry to have troubled you," he apologized. "The cottage opposite, perhaps."

"There are no telephones beyond Lighthouse Avenue," she informed him in the same frigid tone.

He dropped down upon the porch railing. "If you don't mind, I'll sit here a minute," he said.

A little flame of indignation flared on each of Angelina's cheeks. Then, suddenly startled at his drooping shoulders and his white face, it dawned upon her that the man was about to faint. She helped him to a porch chair, got a glass of water and fanned him.

When he had sufficiently recovered to walk he was profuse in his apologies. "You see, I had a bad attack of the flu in the winter," he explained, "and an abscess on the lungs afterward. In fact, I've only been out of the hospital a few days and I suppose the trip down here was a bit too strenuous. But it does make a fellow fighting mad," he broke off wretchedly, "to find out he has no more backbone than a jellyfish!"

Of course Angelina insisted on going to the drug store after the medicine he had intended telephoning for, and equally of course, when her new neighbor, old and weakly, came out on the Yellow Jacket's porch late the next morning, she hurried into Brown Betty's kitchen for the bowl of nourishing soup she had been waiting to hand over the fence.

The last sample of tempting delicacy over the fence to the semi-invalid bachelors next door quickly became a habit.

"I'm giving myself a summer course in domestic science," Miss Darcy laughingly made excuse, "and I'm so glad to have some one to test my experiments in cooking."

"A case of trying it out on the dog?" he boyafully teased.
"There was much of businessness about him, although by piecing to gether little things dropped in his talk—his years at college, his years in a law firm's office, the years as his own master—Angelina judged him as old as her aged 39 year old self, and then some."

"But no more it to take care of himself than a child. What his family was thinking of to let him come down here alone I can't imagine!" Later she discovered he had no family. "I'm so tired of boarding houses," he added in a witted tone.

"Shake!" she laughed back, a new bond forged between them.

In fact, the first talk from the porch to porch each day Angelina seemed to find a new link of companionship between herself and her next door neighbor, Richard Harrington. Of course, these long talks took a great deal of time that she had planned to spend doing other things. But, after all, it was a more temporary interruption to her freedom than as King Richard, as she playfully called him in her thought, was himself going, he would be away all day tomorrow.

But in spite of the interdicting sea air and the pines' balsam of bathing, he gained slowly, and during the early days of discouragement, Angelina had not the time to be so kind to her to take a little stroll, in the woods, to eat their picnic lunch together on the beach, to have afternoon tea with him in the Forest Tea Garden. Nor did the out come according to her calculation, for when Harrington was finally sent to allday alone, instead of going off alone he got up a series of neighborly parties, of which Angelina Darcy was at ways a leading spirit.

So the summer elided by, Angelina, growing younger, and prettier, ever outdoor day said, more happy hearted than she had ever been in her life. "It's because of dear little Brown Betty," she smiled, looking about her beloved living room one evening late in August. "There's nothing that satisfies a woman's heart like a home of her own."

And in a spluttering flash of a great come a daring purpose came to her. Why go back to the city in September? It cost so little to live the simple life in the Grove, the income from a small factory that had been left her would be ample without her salary—at least she would stay on until the end of the year.

The first of September Richard Harrington, well and strong again, ruddy from sunburn, took his leave, eager, jubilant over getting back to work. "Goodbye and good luck," Angelina called gayly as he rode off in the five passenger Ford. "Brown Betty will miss you."

"Miss him?" The days that followed fairly ached from missing. The house, the woods, the beach, everything was suddenly filled with emptiness. And she had thought her summer happiness was because of Brown Betty, because of having a home of her own. A home—the mockery of the word. There could not be a home without companionship, without love.

And she was nothing to the man who had become everything to her. That was the thing that stung her with shame. He did not care enough even to write to her.

October came and went. November dragged slowly by. Angelina was despondently thankful she had not resigned her position, but merely taken a leave of absence. Perhaps when she got in harness again she would forget in hand, exacting work.

As she sat beside Brown Betty's lone room, first, sternly bracing herself to meet the future with soldierly courage, she gave a sudden start, a flood of bright color springing to her cheeks. It was absurd of course, but the quick eager step on Brown Betty's porch sounded so like—

"Yes, I'm down at the Grove again," Richard Harrington was the next minute telling her, his face beaming with smiles, as he stood holding her hand in his, as though he would never let it go. "At the hotel for the week-end. I had to come. I couldn't stand the loneliness of the city another day. Oh, my little next door neighbor," he went on in a voice that shook with earnestness, "my little summer pal, I want you. I need you close by all the year through! Angelina, can't you—won't you, dear?"

To the right generation must we look for many changes and improvements in our municipal conditions. The children of the present, under the influence of a broad-minded teacher, will absorb lessons which will later be an enormous influence for good. A recognition of this fact, and of the great dependence placed upon them should be in the mind of everyone entrusted with the upbringing of our youth. The extent to which this power or to influence children for good is recognized may be gleaned from the number of appeals made to the school teachers for assistance. Every interest working for the betterment of Canada and Canadians lays stress on the necessity of securing recognition and support of the children.

To this already long list has been added a call for the influence of school teachers in the keeping of streets free from litter. To a large extent the children are responsible for this. Waste papers, chewing gum wrappers and candy wrappers are thrown upon streets and sidewalks regardless of the millions they cause. Litter is carried by the wind, and blowing about the streets, frightens horses, causing many runaways and sometimes serious accidents. Waste papers also collect in sheltered places, falls through grates into basement window openings, or accumulates against wooden buildings or fences; a lighted match or a clear cigarette stub carelessly thrown aside may fall upon this accumulation and cause a fire. All fires are the same size at the start and take the same time to get going, sometimes causing the greatest loss, both of property and lives.

The school teachers have it in their power to inculcate in their pupils the habit of keeping the streets free of the streets, and great benefits will accrue from this effort on their part.

FRIEND DID HER

MRS. GOBOUBT TAKES TANLAC

ON ADVICE GIVEN HER

HEALTH RESTORED

"My friend certainly was right when she told me Tanlac was the best medicine in the world," said Mrs. C. Goboubt, Coquitlam, B. C., while telling her experience with Tanlac.

"For more than a year I could hardly sleep at night. I was up every night and I wouldn't even sit down to the table. I had to eat the lightest of foods, and even these I couldn't eat. It looked like I would smother, my heart palpitated frightfully and I could hardly endure the pains in my stomach. Every day I had sick headaches which nearly drove me wild and at times the smell of my husband's food so bad I could scarcely move around. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep and always felt so tired and worn out I could scarcely do any housework."

"One day a friend called to see me and told me Tanlac was the best medicine she ever heard of for troubles of my kind, so I took her advice and started taking it. Well, I've taken seven bottles now and my appetite was never better, and although I'm eating just anything I want, nothing gives me the least pain or distress. I never have a headache or pain in my back, sleep like a child every night and am feeling just as well as I ever did in my life, and my housework is once more a real pleasure. Since Tanlac has done so much for me I just can't praise it highly enough."

HAD INDIGESTION

And DYSPEPSIA.

CAN EAT ANYTHING NOW.

The misery which stomach trouble causes, the sufferer knows only too well, and anyone who suffers knows what joy it would give to be able to eat three square meals a day, and not be pained for it all the time.

Before you can eat heartily, and not pick and choose your food, you must put your stomach right so that it will produce its own digestive ferment. For forty-two years Burdock Blood Bitters has been making weak stomachs strong, and positively curing every case of indigestion and dyspepsia that very often other remedies were powerless to reach.

Mrs. Alice Redgrave, Freeman, Ont., writes: "I have a great deal of trouble from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years, and could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Several friends have recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, and I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and am in perfectly good health. B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. McBurn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

Meat Eaters Versus Vegetarians

Chopped hay, pulverized door-mat, ground alfalfa, and other delectable vegetable foods are perfectly delectable—especially for cattle.

With seven stomachs, and unlimited time to devote to the gentle process of digestion, cattle are admirably fitted to thrive on a strict vegetarian diet. But HUMANS thrive best on the finished product of this diet of the food animal—which is its MEAT.

In brief, the further a person drifts away from a diet balanced around MEAT, the more certain he is to lose vigor and vitality.

The MEAT portion of a MEAL contains the most NUTRITION, and at prevailing prices is cheaper than most other foods.

U. F. A.

The regular monthly meeting of John Knox U.F.A. will be held at the home of Mr. Earl Jackson on Friday evening, April 22nd.

A meeting of the directors of the U.F.A. political association took place at the rest home, Wetaskiwin, on Saturday afternoon last, with a good attendance. After a lengthy discussion, a constitution was adopted. It was decided that the time was not propitious for the selection of a candidate for the forthcoming provincial election, and the executive was instructed to call another meeting when they consider the opportune time has arrived.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

trustees or teachers in adjustments of local disputes. W. M. Davidson, North Calgary, undertook to hamper the passage of this provision, but his motion to substitute the Manitoba Conciliation Act instead of the proposal of Hon. Mr. Smith was voted down 24 to 4. Amidst the applause of the house Mr. Smith declared at one juncture in the debate that he was not going to betray the trustees who were the elected representatives of the people, even though he did desire to see the teachers get fair and honest treatment.

The house finally decided that a committee of seven should be named by the speaker to carry on investigation into the subject of proportional representation, with a paid secretary, and report next session as to the feasibility of introducing the system into provincial elections.

Single Tax in Discard

In spite of a discussion on a small scale in the government ranks over the question, the house decided to amend the town act to require the assessment of improvements to at least fifty per cent of their value, in addition to the straight line tax, in places where the municipalities were behind with their bond payments. A tax of improvements is already compulsory in the cities and villages.

Although the minimum wage for women bill was withdrawn early in the session, Hon. J. R. Hoyle obtained the approval of the legislature to amendments in the factories act which enlarges the scope of that act to create a permanent commission representing employees and employers to recommend a minimum wage for women unaffected by the factories act.

The co-operative credit association act was amended to provide a full provincial guarantee for borrowings of these societies, this practically assuring the better success of these local organizations in obtaining funds from the banks to carry on.

TOWN TOPICS

Civil sittings of the supreme court are being held here this week. We will give a complete report of the proceedings next week.

The ladies of the Methodist church are holding their regular quarterly tea at the home of Mrs. J. E. Burkholder on Thursday afternoon, April 28th. Everybody welcome.

Mrs. A. P. Moen was operated on at the Wetaskiwin hospital this Wednesday morning for appendicitis. Mrs. Harvey underwent an operation for similar trouble a few days ago.

Nominations to select a successor to the late Amos Doupe on the council of the Municipal District of Montgomerly takes place at the office of the secretary-treasurer on Saturday next, from the hours of three to four o'clock.

The streets in Wetaskiwin are now in first-class condition. Supt. Watson has gone over them all with a scraper or drag, and has made a good job. The streets here are as good as in any other place in the province.

The staff of the Central garage has been busy installing a new 500-gal. gasoline tank in front of their premises on McDonald street. The pump is of the five-gallon lift variety, the number of gallons delivered to the car being indicated on a large gauge plainly visible from the driver's seat.

A woman giving her name as Eva May Wilson, and her address as Calgary, and a man claiming to be John Smith of Kamloops, were arrested on Friday evening by Chief of Police Marshall in an intoxicated condition. On Saturday they appeared before E. E. Chandler, police magistrate, and were sentenced to three months in Fort Saskatchewan jail.

The pageant given in the Methodist church on Friday evening last, under the direction of Mrs. Alexander, was a gratifying success. The church was crowded to capacity, and each member of the cast took her part well. The purpose of the pageant was to portray the ultimate triumph of righteousness, the final triumph of Jesus the Christ over ignorance, superstition and fear.
